NEW YORK — Blackheart Records is proud to announce the release of Real Wild Child: Joan Jett Video Anthology, a 2-DVD set featuring more than 35 videos tracing Jett's record-breaking career as front woman of the Blackhearts.

Both concert footage and classic videos are presented in chronological order on REAL WILD CHILD, with no-holds-barred commentary from Jett and longtime manager/partner Kenny Laguna, as well as rare and previously unreleased bonus material.

Along with the Jett classics: "I Love Rock and Roll," "I Hate Myself for Loving You," "Do You Wanna Touch Me?," the DVD offers live versions of "Bad Reputation," "Crimson & Clover," and a live "Cherry Bomb," featuring Jett and former Runaway Cherie Currie, recorded in 2001.

Previously uncollected videos include the rarely-seen "I Love You Love Me Love" concept video; "Real Wild Child," and "Unfinished Business," the fight song Jett recorded for the WNBA's New York Liberty.

Other rarities include:

- The original color version of "I Love Rock & Roll" (1981)
- The concept video of "Little Liar" (1988)
- "As I Am," from Pure & Simple (1994)
- A live performance of "Fetish" (1999)
- Commercials for "Fit to Be Tied," Jett's compilation of hits (2000)

REAL WILD CHILD was produced by Kenny Laguna, Joan Jett & David Snowden and directed by Jack Edward Sawyers for 2RS Studios.
